Thermal edge bond solutions for insulating glass

We accompany you from the idea to the customized solution.

Kanban system

Implementation of an automated ordering system. Stocks are monitored and controlled by us according to your needs.

Your benefits

Continuous supply of goods, without an increased risk of capital commitment. Your process costs are optimized by automating the ordering process and eliminating inventory monitoring.

Delivery performance

Delivery within a few days after order entry. Just-in-time deliveries on the desired date and truck tours with bundled order quantities are also possible.

Your benefits

Flexibility within your production planning. Reduction of storage costs and capital commitment.

Laser marking

Application of an individual customer logo on the surface of the spacer (limited by the glazing cavity).

Your benefits

Increased marketing effect, especially for public objects, through high-quality marketing of your company.

Project-specific lengths

Individual spacer lengths between 4 and 6 meters (in 50 cm steps).

Your benefits

Reduced scrap rates, time and costs.

Tailor made frames

Prefabricated spacer frames in desired dimensions, optionally also with the Muntin Bar. Just-in-time deliveries, including transport-safe packaging.

Your benefit

Productivity advantages due to the elimination of special or standard sizes.

Determination of gas content in glazing cavities

Non-destructive determination of gas filling rates for double and triple glazing.

Your benefits

Reduced complaints due to quality controls. Support in the evaluation and analysis of data. Reproducibility of the system parameters.

Project support through mechanical and thermal calculations

Specification of the insulating glass based on the project information.

Your benefit

By merging the components with each other and with the window sash, there are many future-oriented possibilities for further sustainable developments of the system.

Support with strategic marketing activities

Cooperative partnership in the creation and design of marketing information or events.

Your benefit

Joint market communication regarding topics such as the durability of the glass edge bond.

Online store

Orders can be placed at any time online and without outside help.

Your benefits

Overview and access to our product portfolio as well as product information are displayed in detail. View your customer data, delivery terms, delivery status and history of placed orders.

Remote service

Close to the customer and immediate collaboration through our innovative remote service, using Microsoft HoloLens 2.

Your benefits

Fast and efficient connection with Technoform experts. Uncomplicated support for trial processing, service cases and general consultancy.

We think in solutions.

In order to find the best individual solution for you, we at Technoform think far beyond established standards.
